Minsk Energy Storage Power Station. How can pumped storage power stations improve regional energy consumption capacity? Promoting the construction of flexible and decentralized small and medium-sized pumped storage power stations is conducive to implementing the dual-carbon goal and improving regional new energy consumption.

The project will focus on trying to meet the energy demand for heating of the facilities by utilizing the available in-house digester, where optimization by either separation of gas, increased overall biogas production or storage of biogas are possible alternatives to achieve this goal. Project background
